PARTIAL RE-OPENING OF CLOSURE OF SHELLFISH BEDS

ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION WATER MONITORING AND STANDARDS

Public Notice of Partial Re-opening of Condemnation of Shellfish Beds

Pursuant to statutory authority granted the Department of Environmental Protection appearing at N.J.S.A 13:1B-4 and 58:24-1 et seq., and to assure that the public health is not imperiled by the consumption of shellfish that may be subject to pollution or to any other conditions which may render shellfish dangerous to health because of degraded water quality resulting from exceptional rainfall conditions from Hurricane Irene and the resulting impact on the waters of the State of New Jersey, the Department condemned and prohibited the harvesting of all shellfish from those State waters previously classified as Approved, Seasonally Approved and Special Restricted in the State of New Jersey.

As provided for in the aforementioned prohibition, having determined through sample monitoring that specific Approved, Seasonally Approved and Special Restricted waters of a portion of the Delaware Bay of New Jersey are now safe for the harvesting of shellfish in accordance with N.J.A.C. 7:12 et seq., I revoke the prohibition on these waters and return them to their prior classification, effective immediately.

Specifically the areas involved with this partial re-opening include:

All of the New Jersey waters of the Delaware Bay south of a line from Beadon Point through the Cross Ledge lighthouse at Latitude 39.1627089, Longitude -75.236464, to the state boundary line.

This re-opening applies ONLY to the shellfish waters specified above. This re-opening does not include the New Jersey Delaware Bay shellfish waters north of the line specified above, which will continue to be closed until FURTHER NOTICE.
