[SRRA]: Analytical Methods Technical Guidance training

When: Tuesday, June 24, 2014 from 9:00 AM - 11:30 AM

Where: DEP Public Hearing Room, 401 E. State Street, Trenton (Check in time: 8:30am)

Description: Analytical data are used extensively in environmental investigations and remedial activities. In order to effectively interpret analytical data, it is imperative to understand the quality and usability of the data. Four Technical Guidance documents were developed by the DEP's Analytical Technical Guidance Committee to achieve this goal. Everyone who utilizes data to make environmental decisions will benefit from being familiar with the principles contained in these documents. During the Training session, instructors will highlight important aspects of each document and help attendees better understand how to use them.

The four Guidance documents are listed below.

1. Analytical Laboratory Data Generation, Assessment and usability Technical Guidance;
2. Quality Assurance Project Plan Technical Guidance;
3. Data of Known Quality Protocols Technical Guidance; and
4. Data Quality Assessment and Data Usability Evaluation Technical Guidance

Instructors for this session include:

- Rodger Ferguson, CHMM, LSRP, Pennjersey Environmental Consulting
- David Robinson, LSRP, Synergy Environmental, Inc.
- Nancy Rothman, Ph.D., New Environmental Horizons, Inc.
- Greg Toffoli, NJDEP, Office of Data Quality
- George Nicholas - NJDEP (Moderator)
