[SRRA]: Site Remediation Professional Licensing Board licensing exam postponed

The New Jersey Site Remediation Professional Licensing Board is following the information available to the public related to the COVID-19 outbreak and has decided, out of an abundance of caution, to postpone the Licensed Site Remediation Professional (LSRP) Licensing Exam originally scheduled for April 22, 2020. The LSRP Exam will now be held on June 17, 2020. The Board will reassess the situation surrounding the outbreak closer to the June 17 date, and will provide updates as needed to exam candidates via email and postings on the Board website.

The Board asks that Exam candidates rearrange their schedules accordingly and make every effort to attend the June 17 Exam. Candidates with conflicts that cannot be avoided should contact the Board via email at SRPLBoardContact@dep.nj.gov so that other arrangements can be made.
